

The
CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

Global Rescue mentioned in Christian Science Monitor

By Ron Scherer, Staff writer | October 4, 2010

Europe Travel Alert: Eight Steps Americans Can Take

You have booked tickets for the Paris International Photo Fair or perhaps your son is already in Berlin studying German. Now that the US State Department has issued a 'travel advisory' for Europe, what should you do?

5. Contract A Security Firm

If you are very concerned about safety, you might want to contract with an outside group, such as International SOS or Global Rescue – for-profit companies that specialize in international medical emergencies and security issues.